ABOUT COLLEEN HAUK

Colleen Hauk spent 15 years in the corporate landscape, specializing in training and leading sales teams in a fast-paced, quota driven environment. She excelled at aligning business challenges with smart solutions and inspiring others across the organization to impact cultural change.

Colleen's leadership and personal development skills were honed during her tenure in the private sector, where she experienced first-hand the negative effects of poor leadership and a lack of self-care. She transformed the workplace culture from toxic to thriving and, after suffering her own breaking point, she altered her circumstances and developed successful methods for a healthy, holistic life.

Colleen is now a speaker, trainer and co-author of two books – the bestseller, Women Who Ignite and Why Didn't Anybody Tell Me This Sh!t Before. She trains and coaches elite performers on her techniques to 'have it all' without losing it all. She has appeared in Forbes and Best Self, and she's delivered her keynotes and trainings to organizations such as Panasonic, Merck, IPSEN, US Foods, CBRE and Coldwell Banker.

TESTIMONIALS

Colleen was one of our event's top rated speakers. Her ideas and thinking resonated with the entire audience. If you're looking to inspire your audience and provide innovative tips, bring Colleen as a speaker to your event. Tricia Washington, Senior Event Producer at Dynamic Global Events

Colleen is such a dynamic and engaging speaker. We all felt lucky to have her speak at our Panasonic Lean In Circle meeting. Her message of the need to develop balance between all aspects of our lives resonated with everyone in the room. We'd have her back anytime so more of our employees could get the opportunity to experience her presentation. Alexandra Schrift, Consumer Marketing Manager at Panasonic

Colleen made me look like a rock star! Her presentation was the most talked about element of the day. She is funny, engaging, inspiring and perfectly adapts her topic to the audience. I'm not sure how I will top her for my next event! Cris Peterson, Area Director at Zonta

Colleen was relatable, funny, and gave everyone practical advice that could be implemented TODAY. Her passion for helping women be their best selves is real and so inspiring. Colleen made our event unforgettable! Lindsay Sherman, Head of HR at Newmark Knight Frank

Colleen is enthusiastic, personable, and authentic. She delivered an on-point message that spoke to women at all career and leadership levels. Full of practical insights and applicable concepts, her presentation reminded us how we can have it all and keep our careers. Kelly Walsh, Marketing Manager at Moss Adams
