

LINDSAY BOCCARDO

MOST REQUESTED SPEAKING TOPICS:

- Stop Managing Your Millennials: Why Building Multi-Generational Teams is the Future of Work
- Millennials as Managers: Preparing for a New Era of Management in Your Workplace
- Five Attitudes In the Office: How to Spot Them and Master Your Interactions
- Building Strong Relationships: Empathy and Communication Skills for Organizational Leaders
- Designing a Career Path (and a Life) That Are More Exciting Than a Netflix Binge***
- LifeTeam = Lifeline: *The Secret to Successful Goal Setting and Dream Building**

*Best for Young Professionals/Young Leaders

---

“Lindsay was PHENOMENAL! We had almost our entire HR team sitting in her session and we were in AWE! Her message was very well received and lots of buzz about her content!”

- Danielle Scheible, Employee Experience Specialist at The UniGroup Companies

---

For nearly a decade Lindsay has been coaching, researching and developing programs for millennials. Lindsay loves working with young talent and the organizations that employ them. By providing education and training through one-on-one programs, group coaching and seminars, Lindsay empowers young employees to develop themselves into the top talent in their organization.

Her credentials include a degree in psychology and public communication from Syracuse University, and a coaching certification through the International Coach Federation.

Lindsay has partnered with organizations such as Cars.com, Intern Bridge and the Indiana Supreme Court, where she identified opportunities for millennials. She is committed to building strong companies where millennials and other generations of employees work together to make powerful contributions.

GET IN TOUCH:

Email | Website | Instagram | LinkedIn